DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-8 are allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claim 1, the closest prior art issued to Osterweil fails to teach or suggest a digital image frame, wherein the digital image frame coupled to a computer system via a local area network (LAN) and the digital image frame further comprising a display device surrounded by an enclosure modeled to resemble a picture frame, a buffer memory, a wireless LAN transceiver for communication between the digital image frame and the computer system, and further including a control system in communication with the display device for controlling the temporary storing and display a representation of the decoded digital image data on the display, and then freeing the portion of the buffer memory after a predetermined time available for storing further decoded digital image data from the computer system. In addition, Schiller et al. (US. Pat. No.6,442,573) teach a similar apparatus for displaying digital image, but Schiller does not teach to comprise a buffer memory and the technique of freeing the portion of the buffer memory available after predetermined time period to store further decoded digital image data; Schiller flash memory is simply for updating newer software version which is not image frame as claimed (see col.11/lines 50-63).
